

2019

On the last day of the Chinese year, there is a big family dinner. I like it very much because I can eat a lot of meat. 😊

I printed this picture to celebrate the Chinese New Year which have many my favorite cartoons idols. I like Pokemon very much.

In the Chinese New Year, people love to stick chunlian which are also written on red paper.

The chunlian tradition result in all houses having a brilliant and colorful entrance once a year. Though they may take many forms, all chunlian have one thing in common: a wish for happiness for the coming year.

This chunlian is printed by me, it have many beautiful colors like a rainbow. I give u this chinese word "fu" to you. Wishes you have lucky and happiness in this year.
